BATO™ FRENCH FRIES

The Talachin Agro-Industrial Company has a daily output capacity of 250 tons and is one of the major producers of French fries in Iran.

The latest European machineries enable Talachin to produce French fries at the same level of quality as similar competitive European products throughout the region.

PRODUCT SPECIFICATIONS

1. A minimum amount of fat in the final product, due to the constant control of oil absorption.
2. Oil quality preservation and the prevention of rancidity thanks to the filtration of fine particles during the entire production process.
3. Final product uniformity thanks to the elimination of defective pieces by the optical sorter.
4. Preservation of potato texture and nutritional value in frozen products due to the use of the Individual Quick Freezing system (IQF).
5. Prevention of the formation of free fatty acids thanks to the use of indirect heating and a heating exchanger.
