

Our mission for 39 years has been to create with love, clothes for leisure and fitness that make people proud to sell them, respected for buying them, well with their lives whenever they use them.

More than national recognition, ALTO GIRO wants to be loved for the way it relates to people and the world.

For this we develop social projects and establish partnerships because we believe that we reap what we sow.

TECHNOLOGY AND QUALITY

For our designers to exercise their creativity in our collection, it is necessary that the entire production chain is constantly evolving. Always seeking to innovate and be attentive to new technologies, ALTO GIRO has specific softwares for production management, computerized cutting system integrated with modeling. Also has project and planning, programming and productivity control sectors. At our suppliers, we seek innovative yarn technologies that combine physical benefits, comfortable modeling and trends.

SOCIO-ENVIRONMENTAL ACTIONS

The concern for the well-being of everyone connected to ALTO GIRO is highlighted in its structure through a restaurant, a leisure and rest area for employees.

Seeking to help our employees, the New Possibilities project was created five years ago, which serves children of employees aged 12 to 16 years in reinforcement classes in the subjects of English, mathematics and Portuguese, in addition to music and theater classes. There are almost 100 teenagers who attend the project during the school year. We value and participate in incentive projects such as "Jovem Aprendiz" and social inclusion projects, always seeking greater interaction with society. We also have a project with APAE Maringá, which makes it possible to reuse the fabric scraps that are made by the students and reacquired by the company in the form of a hair ornament that are lovingly offered to our customers.

ABOUT US

Alto Giro, of the Recco Co group, has been in the market for 39 years, working in the manufacture of fitness and beachwear, marketing through own stores and multibrand stores. This is the reward for serious and dedicated work, based on Christian principles. Built in synergy between its suppliers and employees. Alto Giro excels in producing with quality, thus becoming a competitive company with an eye on new markets and possibilities. Today it is recognized for its ethical management, social responsibility and valuing people.

In order for designers to be able to creatively carry out their work of developing new products, the entire production chain needs to be constantly evolving and, in this scenario, investment in precision machinery with greater efficiency in production is something constant at Alto Giro; generating higher quality in production. The inspiration for the production comes from several sources (fashion trends, history, culture, art, music, events, etc.), but the main one is the market, it reflects the moment that we live and what the consumer is looking for. The Alto Giro line is developed with the woman in mind with all her versatility and flexibility who has various activities throughout the day and needs a comfortable look, which she can go for a workout at the gym or outdoors, but also meet her needs anywhere, anytime of the day.
