Director's Message

It is of an immense pleasure for me that our company is progressing, gained its respect among the competitors in the market. I am indebted to the management of my company who rendered their invaluable support over the years placing its wheels on the track to become a company of choice. I have firm belief that unless and until our internal customers are not satisfied we won't be able to satisfy our external customers. I also know the biggest challenge but often also the most rewarding aspect of my job is timely understanding what is going on the business so that I can apply the rules of law and minimize the risks for the company.

Mr. Vinod S
