COMPANY PROFILE

ABOUT US

Wamsutta Oil Refinery first established around 1861 in McClintocksville in Venango County near Oil City, Pennsylvania, in the United States, is the oldest and existing top notch US refinery who have maintained an AAA rating for long-lasting oil and gas production for both domestic and international consumers. The highly experienced team who run it is very proud to safely produce and provide Americans with the transportation fuels that support their economy and lifestyle.

WAMSUTTA OIL REFINERY

Wamsutta Oil Refinery Wamsutta Oil Refinery is a leading energy company that supplies about a quarter of American's fuel requirements.

We make, Export, blend and deliver fuels, lubricants, solvents and bitumen through our extensive national and international supply chains.

OUR COMPANY

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

Our board and management team are committed to protecting shareholder value by upholding a code of conduct that is ethical, responsible, and respectful of customers, communities, our people and stakeholders.

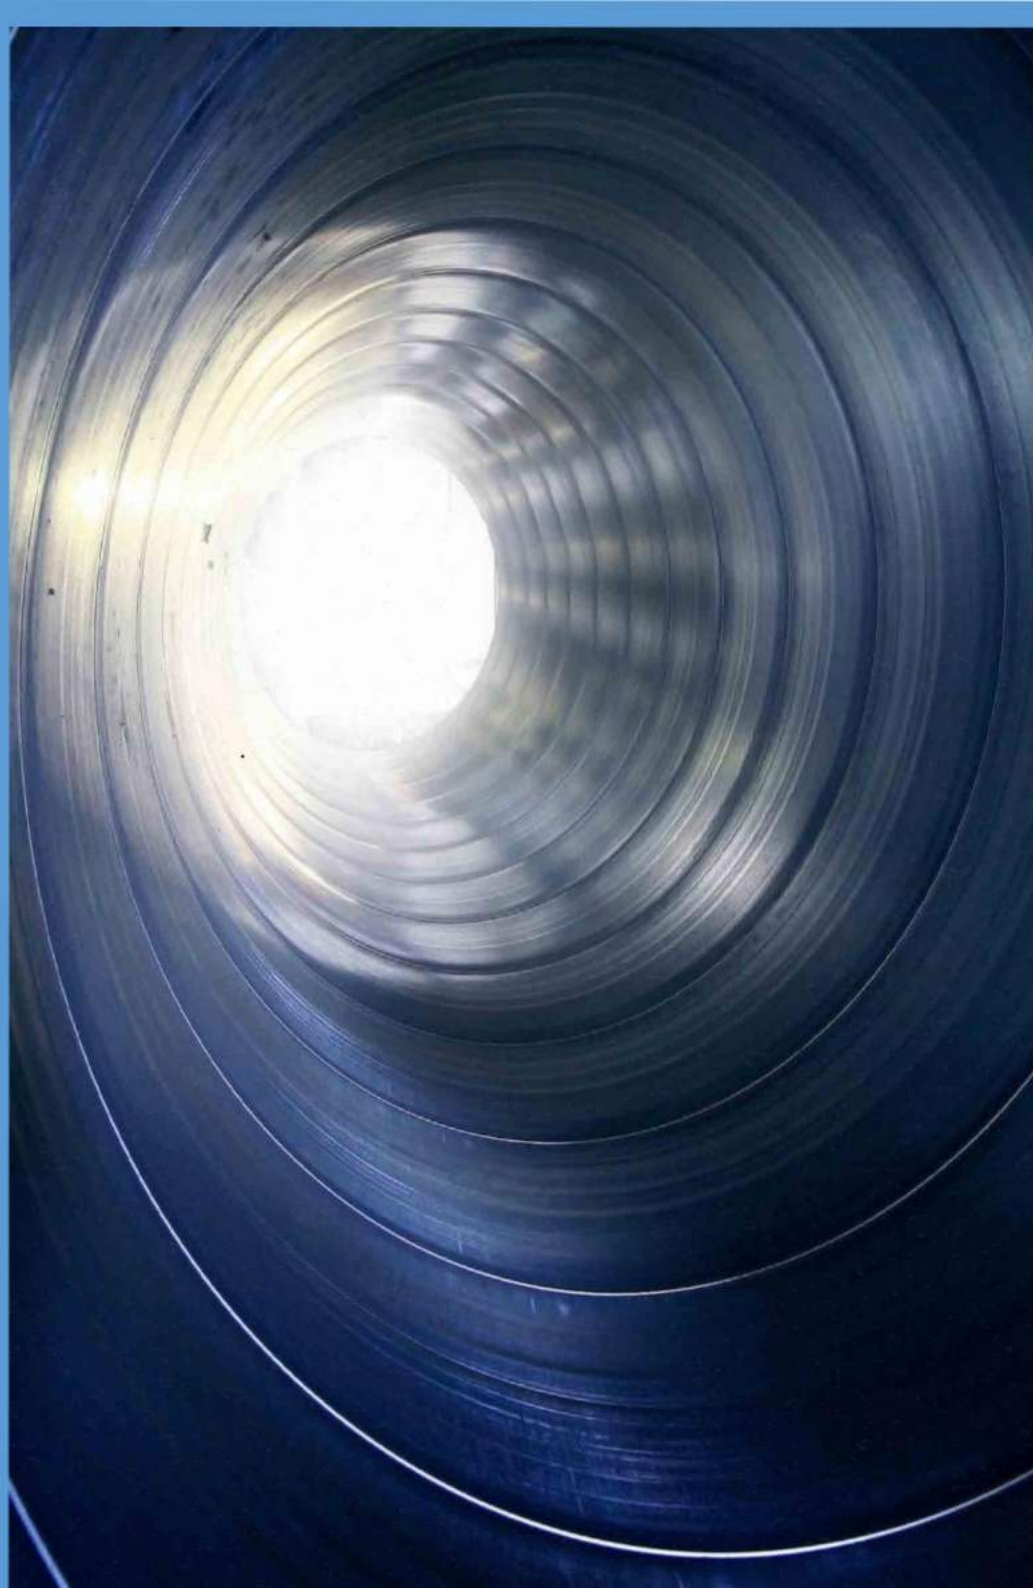

Our industry is evolving rapidly and we will adapt and grow accordingly, reviewing our Corporate Governance to ensure our practices continue to align with the United States Securities Exchange Corporate Governance Council Principles and Recommendations, and provide ongoing opportunities for success.

WHO WE ARE?

Wamsutta Oil Refinery is a leading energy company that supplies about a quarter of American's fuel requirements.

We make, Export, blend and deliver fuels, lubricants, solvents and bitumen through our extensive national and international supply chains. The United States economy mainly relies on the products we supply, our experience in operating supply chains safely and reliably, and our commitment to helping American motorists, businesses and industries.

We're proudly American, extremely proud of our history and excited to be an important part of American's future.

WHERE YOU ARE

We are the exclusive American licensee of one of the world's most recognizable brands, selling high quality Shell fuels and lubricants to motorists across the country. For industry, we provide the fuels, lubricants and support that our customers in the transport, mining, aviation, marine, manufacturing, defence and construction sectors need to keep their businesses moving.

We invest in our infrastructure and continue to develop our national network of around 1,350 Shell and Liberty service stations so that our products and services are never too far away.

DEPENDABLE TODAY AND COMMITTED TO TOMORROW

Refinery at Venango County manufactures and supplies more than half of Pennsylvania's fuel requirements. Employing more than 700 people, our refinery is the only manufacturer of bitumen, solvents and avgas in America, and a vital part of our country's energy security.

Beyond refining, we aim to establish new energy projects which will transform the site into a modern Energy Hub and meet the changing energy needs of all American's. Our proposed Gas Terminal aims to bring natural gas from other parts of the country and overseas to meet the anticipated gas shortage in south-east America as well as support renewable power generation and low emission energy sources.

SERVICES

JET A-1

Jet A-1 is a kerosene grade of fuel suitable for most jet turbine engine aircraft. It can also be used for compatible diesel engine planes in general aviation.

JET PLUS

Jet Plus is a premium aviation fuel with the additive fuel system icing inhibitor (FSII).

Jet Plus reduces or eliminates issues related to the build-up of water in fuel tanks on business jets, turbo-prop aircraft and helicopters.

OUR SIGNIFICANT INFRASTRUCTURE

Wamsutta Oil Refinery supplies over 50 percent of Pennsylvania's fuel, and it is the only major manufacturer of bitumen, solvents and avgas in the United States. We also export products through Vitol, the world's largest independent energy trader, and deliver them safely and reliably through our network of over 24 terminals nationwide.

Safety is our priority

Wamsutta Oil Refinery's overarching objective is to provide a safe work place for workers, contractors, visitors, neighboring properties and businesses.

Our approach

Our objective is to grow a sustainable business that aligns with our values – and with the expectations of our employees, the communities in which we operate and external stakeholders.

Operating sustainably motivates us to address the challenge of climate change and be part of the solution, to expand and diversify our operations as a trusted energy provider participating in the US transition to a low carbon future.

Our values determine how we approach safety, our environmental and community responsibilities, and our quest for new opportunities. They guide our conduct as we treat people with respect and integrity.

This is the Wamsutta Way, and it is shaping the future of our business.

SUSTAINABILITY

WE ARE COMMITTED TO OPERATING A SUSTAINABLE BUSINESS.

ENVIRONMENT

We are committed to protecting the environment and minimizing the risk of any potential impacts that may arise from our operations or our products.

To ensure we protect our environment; we comply with all our legal obligations and adhere to our company procedures. Any environmental incident is recorded and investigated, and if found to breach environmental regulations we notify the appropriate authorities.

At Wamsutta, safety is everyone's responsibility, and we manage it in a systematic way that is simple, clear and easy for people to understand and follow. The Wamsutta defines the expectations and principles that guide how we conduct ourselves, particularly when it comes to health and safety.

Every incident is preventable, and so our goal is to identify and address their causes. By doing so we aim to achieve 'Goal Zero' – no harm to people or the environment.

We believe that helping our people to stay fit, healthy and well, improves workplace safety as well as their general mental and physical well-being. We provide support and programs that are designed to improve the health and well-being of our people, with a focus on optimizing their performance at work and at home.
